I just received this today via text from my mom...

Pray for a miracle. Born last Monday. Ethan Boyd at 35 weeks to our nurse. His insides was pushed up into the space where his heart was supposed to be anyway his lungs didn't develop he was born our nurse name Shelby at 35 weeks. He dropping not doing good. They were taking him off the breathing ECMO so he could breath on his own now and he's not doing good. Please, we just stopped and prayed as a group and individually still praying. Bleeding on his brain. Doctors said its common for babies who lungs are undeveloped.

The latest from my mom:

They just got word Shelby and Justin just posted Ethan has gone to be with the Lord. They need his strength.

The little one did not make it...please keep the parents, Shelby and Justin, in prayer as they mourn the loss of their son.
